A Tough Act To Follow

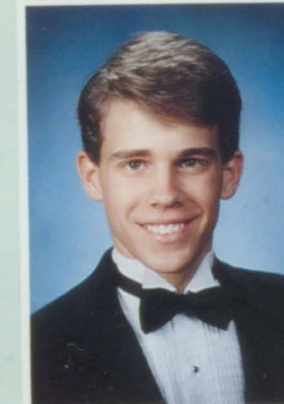

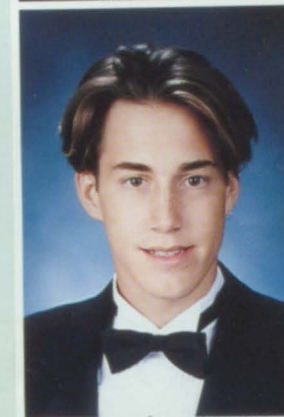

Seniors Class of 1993

Highway to Heaven

Every American teenager dreams of owning his or her own set of wheels one day. In a recent yearbook survey, seniors were asked to name their favorite cars. The top three were Porsche, Mercedes, and BMW. Chelsea Davis wanted a '93 convertible Cabriolet.

Yield to the Seniors

Finally the moment has arrived; you are a super senior! Senior privileges were very limited this year, but you still had fun. The majority of seniors who answered our poll wanted a new senior privilege — to be able to leave campus for lunch! Jessica Quesenberry thought we should "be able to exempt final exams for every class we have an A in, each quarter."

On the Road to Election '92

Four years have gone by and it's time to elect a President. Our survey discovered that 75% of our seniors claim that Clinton will be the next president, and 25% still back Bush. Vashon Reeves had a different idea of who should be the chief; "I think Jesus would be a good president of the U.S. The public is looking for someone perfect and without blemish and Jesus is the only one qualified."

Battalion Commander

Amy Lachapelle

Amy Lachapelle outlooks her future through ROTC. Amy was asked does she think ROTC will benefit her later on in life and she said "It has taught me leadership, discipline, and responsibility. I feel that these qualities will enable me to make good decisions throughout life." Amy plans to attend Georgia College, run cross country, and join the Army Reserve. Being Battalion Commander has changed Amy's senior year a lot. "It has made it a lot of fun. It has given me opportunities to do many things most seniors can't such as participating in the assembly for Al Gore and various other honorable assemblies. I also enjoy being able to make the announcements in the morning."

Food Favorites

Food zoomed into focus when juniors were polled to find out some of their favorites. Seafood was the top choice and pizza was a close second. In third position was steak. When the juniors were asked to name their favorite restaurant, the newer Macon restaurant, Applebee's, tied with Red Lobster. Skipper's came in third with 11%.

Do you eat dinner while watching TV? Our poll showed that more juniors do eat dinner while watching TV. They won by a big lead at 67%. The category "sometimes" came in second with 16% and the result of the juniors that do not eat dinner while watching TV was 15%.

Weight Worries

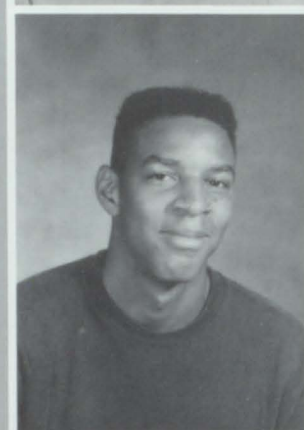

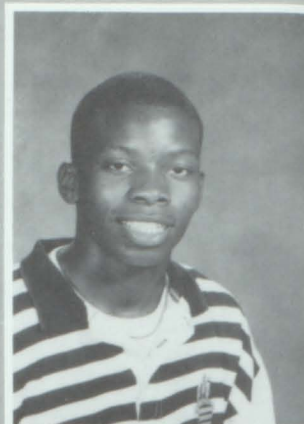

In today's society, much emphasis is placed on the slim, light weight, and well-fit figure. This was proven by a poll that showed that 52% of the juniors thought that they were overweight. 48% believed that they weren't overweight.

Flag "Fixing"?

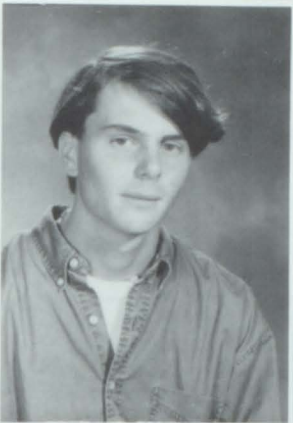

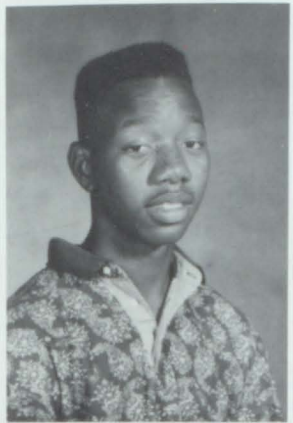

Should we change the Georgia flag? From surveying the juniors, we found that 83% thought that the flag should remain as it is. 13% think that it should be changed, and 3% of the juniors were undecided.

Superior Sports

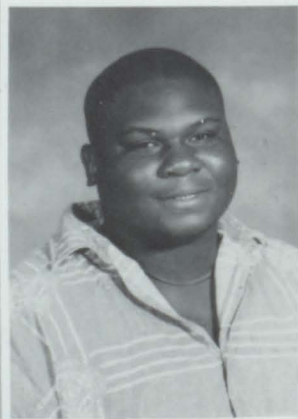

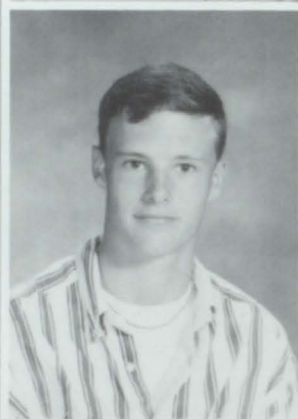

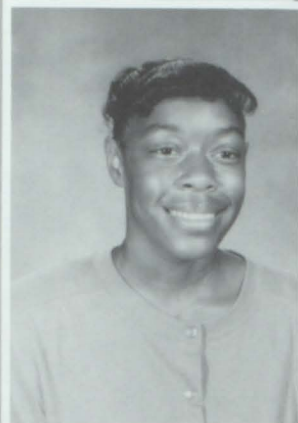

It's clear that the competition in the favorite sports category was fierce. Still on top, football won with 36%, but baseball was close behind at 32%. In third, basketball placed at 30% of the juniors who responded to the poll.

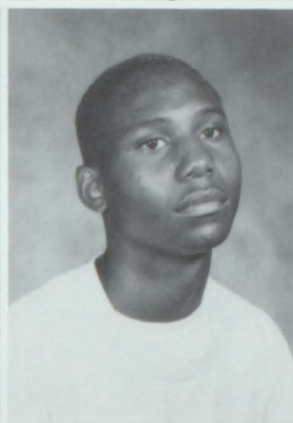

Treasured Transportation

What's the first thing a sixteen year old thinks about when getting a driver's license? You guessed it, cars. The juniors said that their three favorite cars were Jeep, BMW, and Honda Accord. They also supported imported cars over American by 52%. Another survey in the automobile lane proved that 73% of the junior families have two or more cars.

Where does the future loom after high school? 90% of the juniors polled plan to attend college. 7% don't want to go to college, and 3% are undecided. 44% of the juniors don't know where they wanted to go to college. 32% want to go to UGA and 23% want to go to GA Tech. The medical field won as favorite major and law came in second place.

Party Preferences

Everyone was involved in the election. This was the first year that kids could vote. Statistics for the juniors at Central showed 52% Democratic, 24% Republican, and 24% undecided. Regarding the parents' choice, there was little difference; 49% were Democratic, 19% were Republican, and 32% were undecided.

What Should I Wear Today?

The Central sophomores were asked to name the most disliked rule at school. The majority answered, "The dress code." It specifies what students can and cannot wear such as transparent material, short skirts or shorts, etc. Other rules mentioned by Central students were tardy rules, no hats, no gum chewing in class.

Hot SPOT For Food

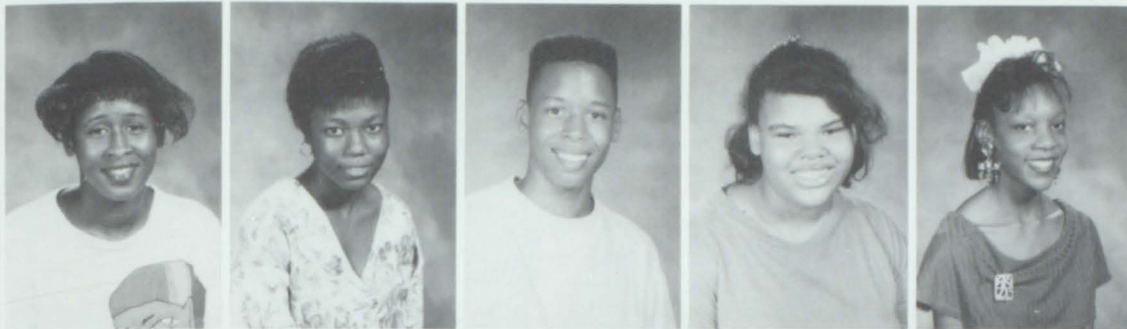

Lunch break is a time for socializing. You will find most students on their lunch break outside talking rather than in the lunchroom eating lunch. In the survey the question, "Do you like lunch better a Lanier A or Lanier B?" was asked. Over 90% of the students prefer lunch in Lanier B and the other 10% in Lanier A.

Hard Hitting Problems

There are many problems here at Central that some students face every-day. The biggest problem cited by sophomores was the problem of drugs. They are definitely a problem, both in America as a whole and Central High School.

Oh Say Can You See . . .

Singing patriotic songs is one way to show our patriotism to America. "The Star Spangled Banner" has won the vote with our sophomores here at Central as a favorite patriotic song. Other songs mentioned were "Yankee Doodle" and "America the Beautiful."

A Political Disagreement

Of the sophomores responding a majority claimed to be Democrats. By a narrow margin the same students' parents seem to be Republicans. Most students felt that today's political figures were "bad" and "irresponsible."

Sports All The Way!!!

The sophomores' top five sports were, in order of popularity, basketball, football, baseball, soccer, and tennis. The top five sports figures were Micheal Jordan, Dieon Sanders, Tom Glavine, Jerry Rice, and Magic Johnson.

Hobbies For Life

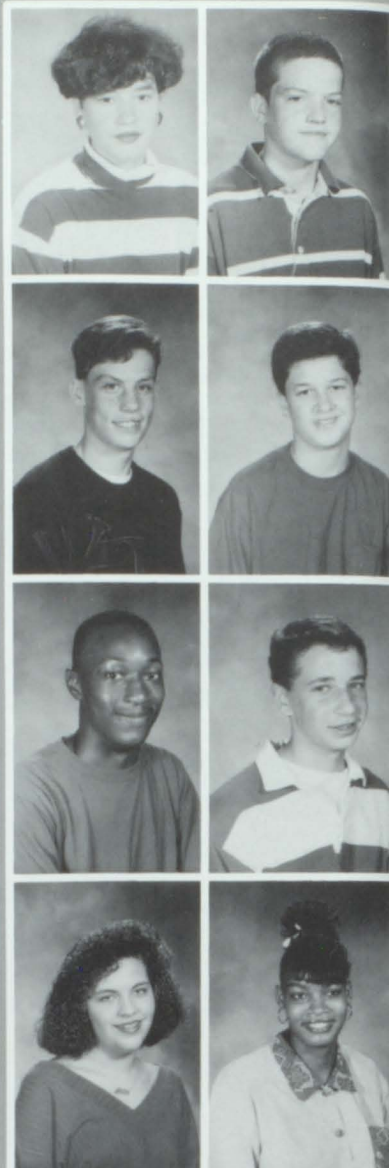

Top five hobbies of the sophomores were sports, talking on the phone, listening to music, reading, and drawing. A majority of the students have pets. The top four pets were dogs, cats, birds, and fish.

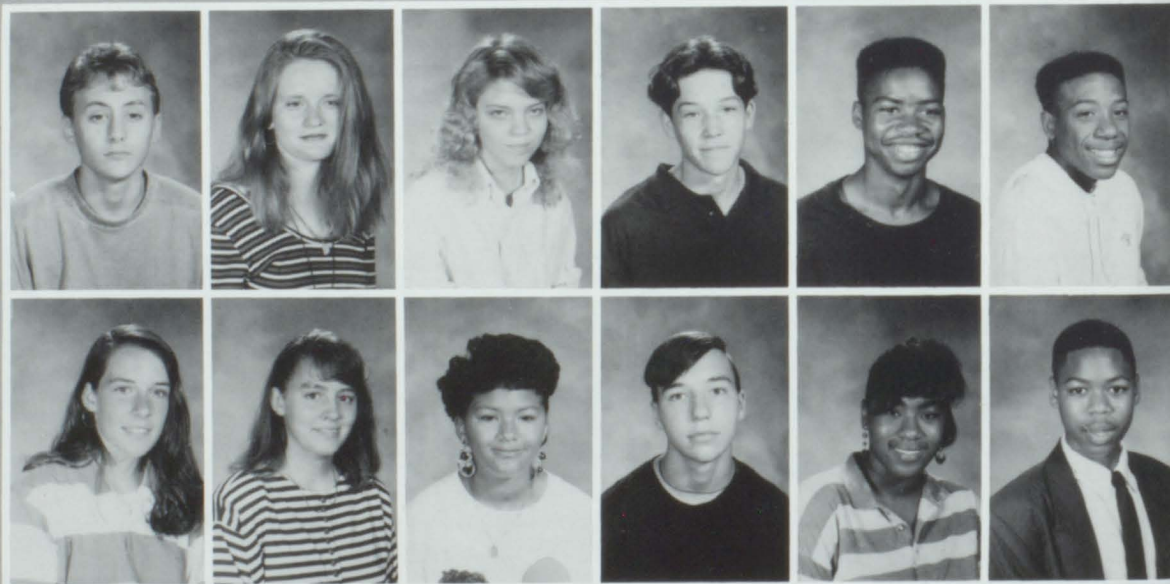

Freshmen Take Sides

Because 1992 was a political year, many students, including the freshmen were interested in politics. The majority of the freshmen said that they were Democratic, followed close behind by Republicans, and a small number said that they did not support either party. The survey revealed that the parents echoed the freshmen's choices, as the Democratic party had the majority.

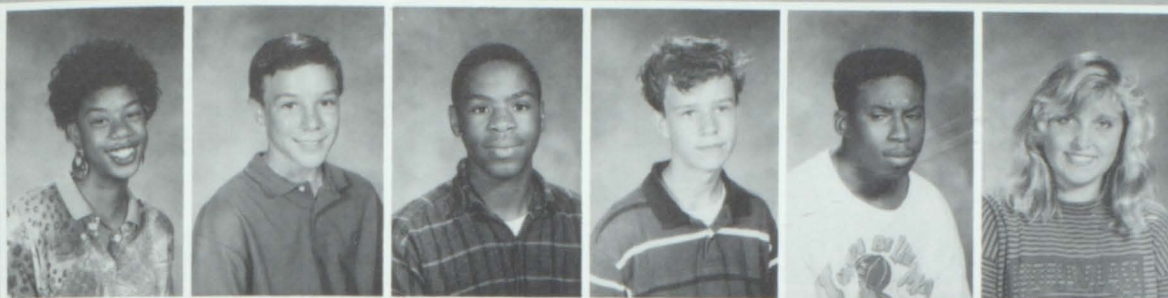

When asked what they thought of politics, the freshmen responded unfavorably. Most said that they did not like politics, yet a small group of freshmen said that they liked politics.

Times Are Changing

Most of the freshmen like the time school starts. 60% said that if they could, they wouldn't want to change the time. But there were some who did want to change the time. Some times suggested were from 8 - 1, from 9 - 2:15, and from 10 - 4.

If you could go on a field trip, where would you go? The freshmen chose Washington D.C. as the top spot, followed by Six Flags, Hawaii, and Paris.

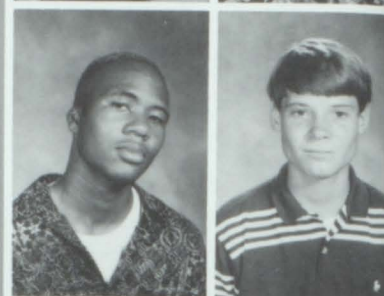

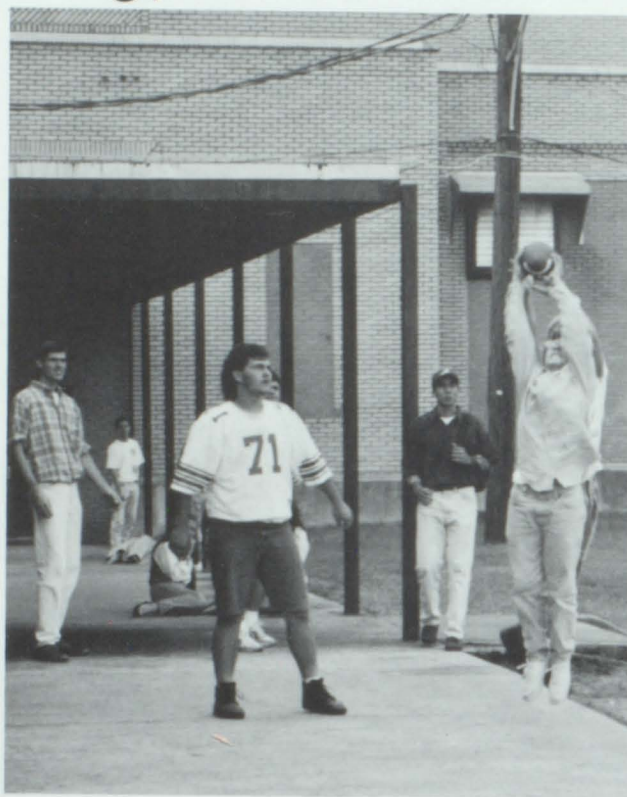

The freshmen had a lot to say concerning the school rules that they hate the most. The dress code was the overwhelming choice at 73%. The "no hats" rule came in second with 16% and the late rules had 11%.

First Down, Three To Go

The favorite sport of the freshmen was football, with basketball coming in a close second. Baseball was the third favorite. But only a few of those surveyed play sports at school. When asked if they played sports at other places besides school most said that they did.

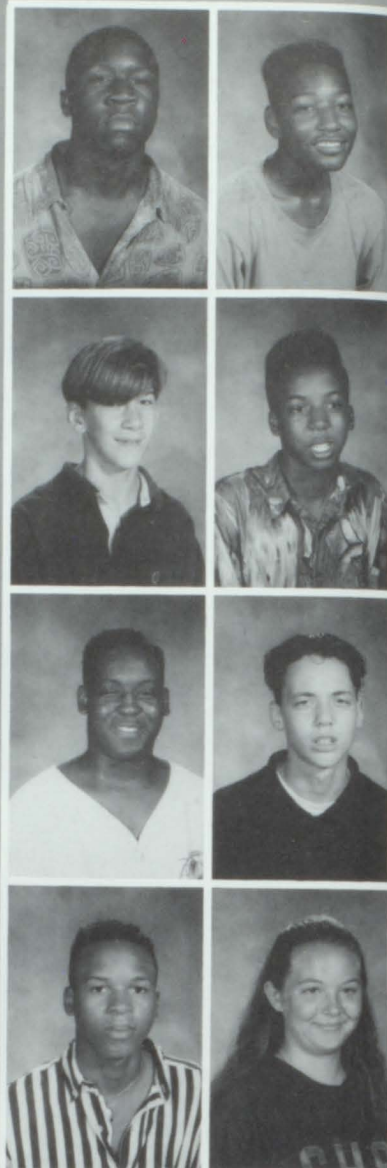

The unquestionable favorite sports figure named by the freshmen was Michael Jordan. Atlanta's own David Justice and Deion Sanders came in second and third.

A Central student's life is full of many speed bumps — some big, some small. Besides school activities, students also have outside interests that make their lives very busy. But even with all of these interests,

“Central is a learning lifestyle in which I am able to achieve my best while having fun.”
Holly Barnard

students still consider school activities to be important. Sharing lunch with friends, getting to class on time, and other everyday school activities help students follow the road to success.

Student Life

Veronica Lewis knows that a part of student life is often taking computer classes.

A band of Central students take a break in the course of a tough day.

This year's homecoming was started off by the nominations and the campaigning of the homecoming courts. The next stop was spirit week. This was a week of many exciting activities to lead up to the big game. The first day was sports day, the second day was twin day, the third day was dress up day, the fourth day was masquerade day, and the last day which was the game day, was spirit day. Each day was a different chance to show the "Big Orange" spirit of the students and faculty.

Many fans gathered at Porter Stadium to support the Chargers. There were music, dancing, and lots of cheers to drive the fans and players toward homecoming victory. The most anticipated moment of the night was the announcement of the 1992 - '93 Homecoming King and Queen. Vashon Reeves was announced as Mr. Central and Anne Menninger was announced as Ms. Central.

The underclassmen winners were:
 Miss Junior — Melody Usery, escorted by Brian Raines
 Mr. Junior — Anthony Richards, escorted by Sebeth Calhoun
 Miss Sophomore — Jennifer Brown, escorted by Reginald Stubbs
 Mr. Sophomore — Jaregis Harris, escorted by Erica Copeland
 Miss Freshmen — Erika Moore escorted by Belvin Ware
 Mr. Freshmen — Dwayne Jordan, escorted by Crystal Jordan

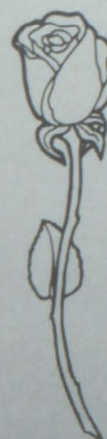

Anne Menninger's escort Carter Rude entertains Lindsey Hodges and escort Jessica Floyd to pass the time.

The Homecoming Court of 1992.

Homecoming representatives Toshia Fickling, Shanetta Davis, and Janine Reid await their call onto the field.

Anne Menninger walks off the field with escort Carter Rude after being crowned the class of '93's Homecoming Queen.

Tosha Fickling, escorted by Trey Jackson, is pleased to receive First Runner-Up for Queen.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves look on proudly as they receive their son, Vashon Reeves, Homecoming King's trophy because he was playing in the football game.

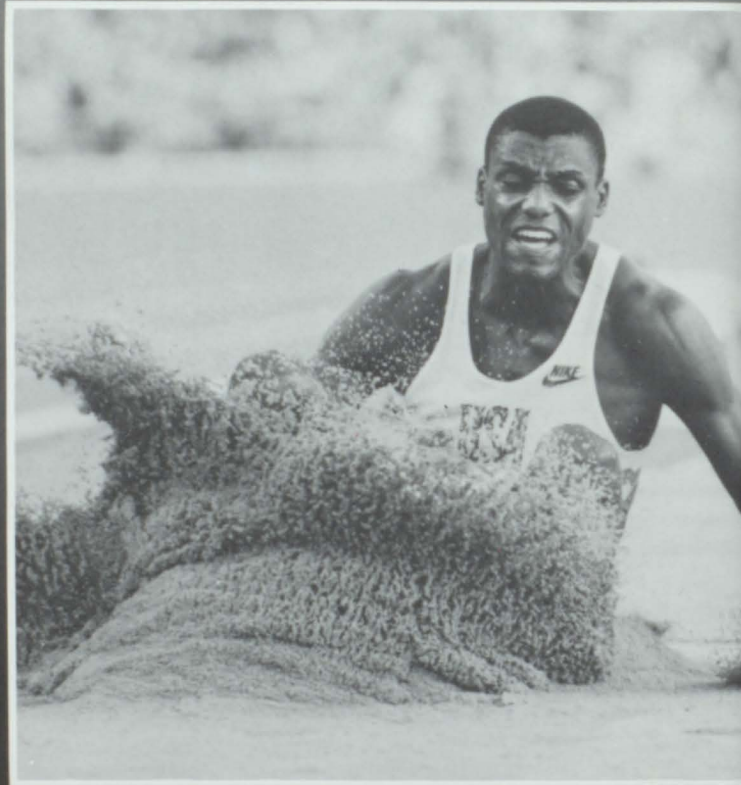

Lindsey Hodges, escorted by Jessica Floyd, is awarded First Runner-Up for King.

STOP! LOOK! and Listen . . .

Current Events 1992

A victim of hurricane Andrew relaxes while surveying some of the 22 billion dollars of damage caused by the hurricane's 54 - hour rampage through Florida and Louisiana.

In 1991 Boris N. Yeltsin was elected president of the Russia Federation. One of his top priorities was economic reform. But the gloomy economic conditions reflected the grave difficulties in building a market economy out of the ruins of communism.

Serbian soldiers fight for their independence from Yugoslavia in Bosnia, as civil war plagued much of the country after the fall of Communism.

Barcelona, Spain, hosted the 1992 Summer Olympics. It proved to be a bonanza for the United States, winning a total of 108 medals. Carl Lewis won 2 gold medals — one in long jump and 1 in the 400 meter relay.

Basketball great Larry Bird retired from the Boston Celtics after a 13 - year career. "When I played, I played as hard as I could. That's what I want to be remembered for."

Sinead O'Connor ripped Pope John Paul II's picture during a concert on Saturday Night Live. She later sang at a Bob Dylan concert and was booed off the stage. She has left the pop music scene for classical.

"The Red Hot Chili Peppers have no preconceived notions, "We just do whatever comes out," says drummer Chad Smith. What's come out is one of the year's biggest groups.

Garth Brooks' unique style of music has lifted country music to new heights. He was voted "Entertainer of the Year" for the second year in a row in 1992. He is of the few entertainers whose managed to top both country and pop charts.

When the four white officers were found not guilty of any wrong - doing in the Rodney King trial, three days of rioting hit Los Angeles. When it was over 52 people were dead, 2,383 injured, 18,807 arrested, and property damage was estimated at $785 million.

America needs to recycle and use recycled products. Recycling had produced vast supplies of paper, glass, and other reusable trash, but there is not enough demand. Buy recycled products and recycle the stuff you buy.

Macon was a hot spot for politicians during 1992 Elections.

HIT THE ROAD!

This has been a very exciting year in American politics. It was also the first year that many Central students were able to participate in the voting. The 1992 Presidential election brought us an Independent candidate, Ross Perot. Perot threw Bush and Clinton for a loop and he took a considerable number of votes from each candidate. Though Bill Clinton won, George Bush put up a good fight. All of the candidates took the "dirt road". Overall this was an election we will never forget.

The Republican candidates, Bush and Quayle look quite confident at the Republican National Convention.

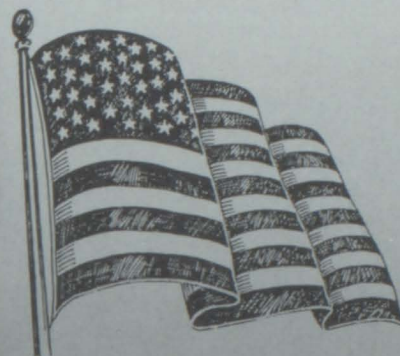

Clinton and Gore, the Democratic ticket, have high hopes for their campaign at the Democratic Convention.

Independent candidate, Ross Perot, changed the face of modern politics by funding his entire campaign.

Al Gore spoke at Central High School while excited supporters cheered him on.

Marilyn Quayle visited the Macon Club to campaign on behalf of the Republican Party.

Bill Clinton in front of Macon City Auditorium, spoke in support of Wyche Fowler. Following his speech, Clinton thrilled his audience by playing in the CHS band, using Seth Rumford's saxophone.

Angry Bush supporters gathered to hear Gochenour speak on Republican Party's behalf about the political unfairness of the Gore rally.

Seeing Double

Seeing Double

Mark and Paul Judd

This year is exceptional, because Central houses a very large number of twins; in fact 1 out of every 100 students at Central is a twin! There are 15 sets of twins, 11 of which are identical. 4 of the sets are fraternal twins. (Identical twins are the same sex and appearance, while fraternal may be opposite sexes and not similar in appearance.)

However, Central fits right in with statistics in the US, about 1 in every 89 births being twins. 3 sets of twins are in the senior class alone.

These sets of twins were asked to respond to a variety of questions concerning E.S.P., mistaken identity, and pros and cons of the "twin life."

Susan and Karen Broyles

"I don't know what it's like not to have a twin, but it seems like this isn't better or worse, just different. Usually the disadvantages seem to add up to more than the advantages. I like Susan a lot, but I don't always want to be identified with one person all my life."

— Karen

Derrick and Errick Henderson

"One day I was walking down the hall and one of Errick's teachers tried to tell me I was Errick. But one of my friends told her I was Derrick. She just started laughing along with another teacher." — Derrick

Benita and Shenita Rhodes

"The beginning of ninth grade, my sister and I had switched classes. So she went to my class, then I went to hers. Everybody thought I was her and she was me." — Benita

LaWanda and LaShonda Womble

"One time when we were in third grade I had the measles. But they sent my sister home." — LaWanda

Debra and Diana Smaha

"We like being twins because you get a lot of attention that way and you know you'll have someone to talk to who will understand."

Meredith and John Walker

"One time I was at the beach and I had just talked to my parents that morning. About 2 hours later I called back because I thought something was wrong. The first thing I said is, 'What's wrong with John?' And my mom told me that John had to get 16 stitches in his leg" — Meredith

John and Jacob Cozart

"I was selling candy at school one day and before school my brother told me that I was going to get caught selling candy. During that day I got caught and got suspended."

Julie and Jenny Croft

"At the fair one year we only had ten dollars which would buy only one wristband. So, Jenny walked with David up to the window and paid, receiving a stamp. She then ran around to the back of the booth and gave me her jacket. So I walked up to the window with David and complained that my stamp had rubbed off. The man looked at me stangely but said he remembered me paying him. So I walked off with a free stamp on my hand." — Julie

Arrin and Farrah Freeman

"We have our own little communication. Sometimes people look at us weird and ask, 'What are ya'll talking about?' But it's ok because my sister and I know exactly what we're thinking." — Arrin

Lanette and Michelle Sosby

"This summer while I was in France I experienced twin ESP. One night I got very upset and nervous for no apparent reason. When I got home, I found out my sister had a car wreck at the same time I was upset." — Lanette

Jason and Brian Harden

"In 8th grade we were in the same cluster and the same classes. Everybody was getting confused. The teachers were getting us confused as well as the students." — Jason and Brian

Places To Go — Things To Do — People To See!

The theater always makes a good place for a date.

No matter which Kroger you visit, a Central student can always be found — in the stock-room, cashier, or bagging

Foodmax — Heigh — ho, heigh — ho, it's off to work they go!

Everyone has spent a few nights at the library working on research papers.

Hanging out at your favorite fast food place with friends is a popular pastime.

Shopping, food, friends, all in one place makes the mall a popular place to spend time.

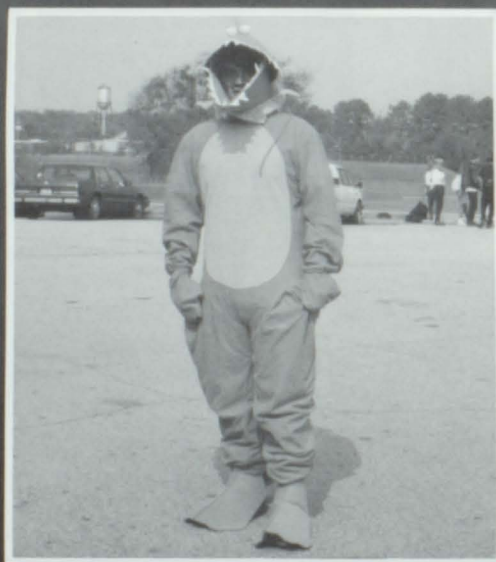

Don't forget the gas and other weekend essentials at the convenience store.

Cherry Blossom '93

It was January 23, 1993 — about forty young women gathered in Porter Auditorium in Wesleyan College for the Cherry Blossom Pageant sponsored by Paul Walsh Nissan/Walsh Honda.

The young adults are evaluated in three different categories. Each young lady is interviewed about her facts on the city of Macon. She participates in a dance as well as a speech. The 12 finalists are chosen from the girls who scored the highest. One of these lucky ladies will be the 1993 Cherry Blossom Queen, and 6 others will be princesses. Central was well represented at the pageant. Two of last year's princesses, seniors Anne Menninger and Kara Hoyle, gave up their crowns this year.

Anticipation shows in Mary Miller's smile as the judges await her speech.

Once again it is the time of year when many Chargers separate into herds; not being fenced in and branded, but rather joining various clubs throughout the school. We have everything from Rifle Team to Debate Team. All of these clubs and teams have much to offer Central, a chance to expand the territory we control and introduce new ideas to many other students. We must, however, keep in mind that no one’s club or team is more important than another, and each deserves a little respect and support.

CLINTON JOINS THE BAND

When President-elect Bill Clinton came to Macon in behalf of Wyche Fowler, Central's own Sugarbear Band was invited to perform at the rally. Seth Rumford, a tenor saxophone player in the band, asked Clinton if he would like to play his instrument. He answered, saying he would take a rain check. Later, Clinton came back and did play his saxophone. Afterwards, he said the saxophone played well, and he patted him on the back.

When asked what was going through his mind when all of this was happening, Rumford said that, "I kept wondering if the Secret Service men would let me give it to him." He also said that meeting the President-elect was "about like meeting Mickey Mouse when I was five. Both were impressive."

Rumford still gets asked about what this whole experience was like. After it happened, his family across the country saw it in their papers. The sax Clinton played was a school instrument and it is going to be framed in the bandroom. Seth framed the mouthpiece, newspaper clippings, as well as the articles in Time and Life magazines and items which the President-elect autographed for him.

The highway of life has many opportunities, one of which is athletics. Whether you like to play or just watch, sports offers you a variety of excitement.

A little closer to home, our mighty Chargers started the season 2-1. Coach Tom Simonton obtained his 150th career win with a 25 to 14 romp over North Atlanta. All signs are "GO!" for this season.

The road to the playoffs was a breeze for the mighty Charger baseball team. The guys had a record of 15 - 5 and made it to the playoffs for the third consecutive year. However, the most impressive obstacle was the fact that the Chargers were undefeated at home.

Coach Smith cites the team's 1991 - 92 strengths as strong defense, good fielders, good speed, and great attitude. He says the team must overcome the loss of dominant stars and lack of a power hitter. When asked what was their favorite thing about Central baseball, Robert Greene said, "I really enjoy playing ball because we have a family atmosphere and the players are kind of like a fraternity." Jason Marti states, "Central Baseball. Enough said."

DANGEROUS CURVES AHEAD

Baseball has been an exciting sport the last two years. The Atlanta Braves have made it to the World Series twice, but unfortunately lost both times. All professional players have to start somewhere, and in most cases it is high school that gives them that start.

Central has two dynamic baseball teams and both work hard to succeed. The teams start practice at the beginning of February when the weather is still cold and rainy. The guys have much determination to brave all fronts to make their season a winning one.

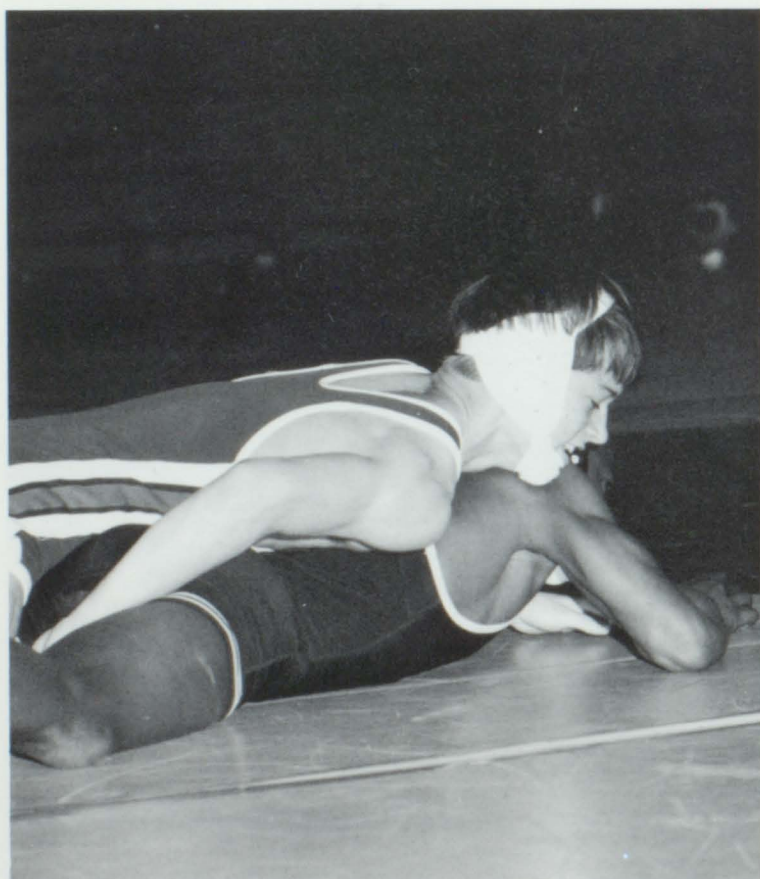

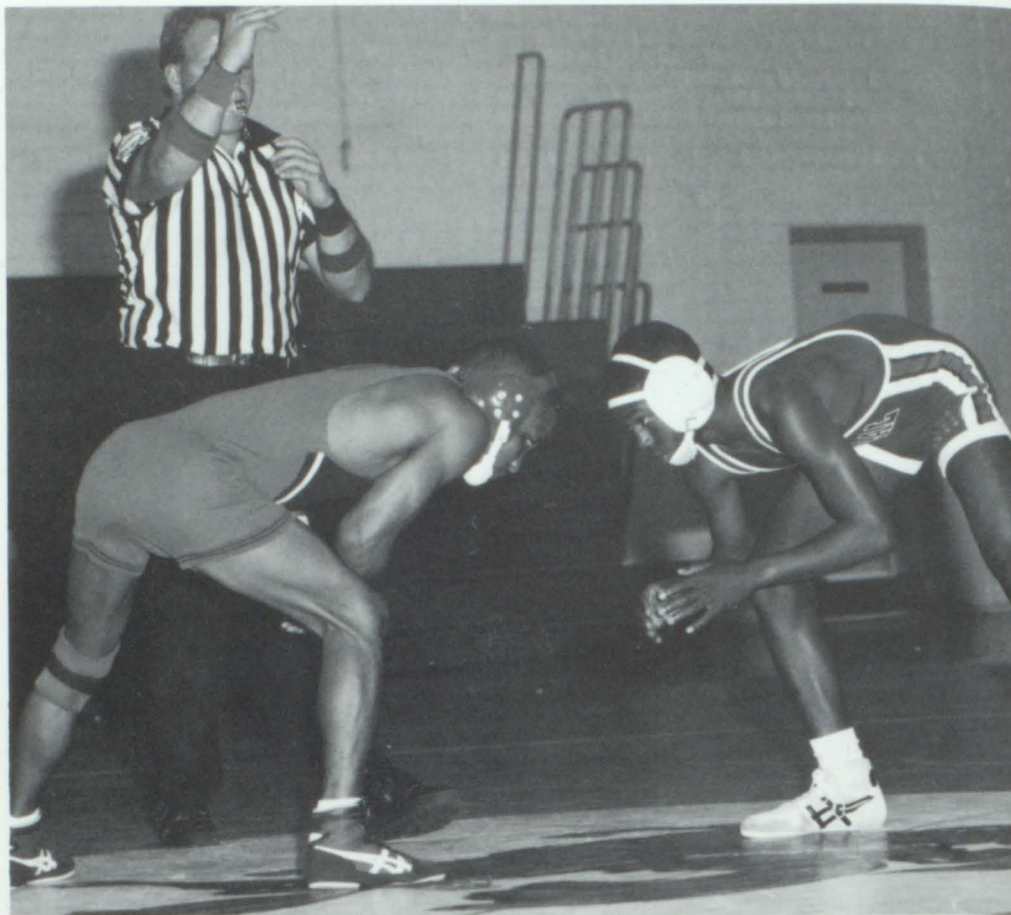

Jonathan Jespersen prepares to field this ball as Areecus Ross backs him up.

Central's wrestling team had a impressive year with a dynamic 39 - 18. The wrestlers finished 3rd in both the Perry and Southwest Invationals. The team has also qualified for state in both 1992 and 1993. Rick Hilton describes the team's strengths as experience, knowledge, strength, and quickness. He also gave a quote on the team, "Somplace — he trains longer; Someplace — he learned more; Someplace — he became quicker, stronger, and conditioned more. When you meet him out on the mat — You ask yourself — 'Am I ready?' "

Pleas Murrell seems to have his opponent under arms.

Track had an impressive record of 5 - 3 - 2. The competitive events include 440 dash, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, mile run, 880 yard run, 110 Low Hurdles, 440 relays, mile relay, and Long Jump. Last year's Most Valuable Player was Natoshia Williams.

Lady Chargers Ready to Rock!

The 1992 team on the road to a victorious season:

The 1991 - 1992 Girl's Varsity Tennis Team really showed competitiveness throughout their season. Each girl practiced on their home courts at John - Drew Smith Tennis Center after school, and they were able to retain the title of "City Champs" for the twelfth consecutive year.

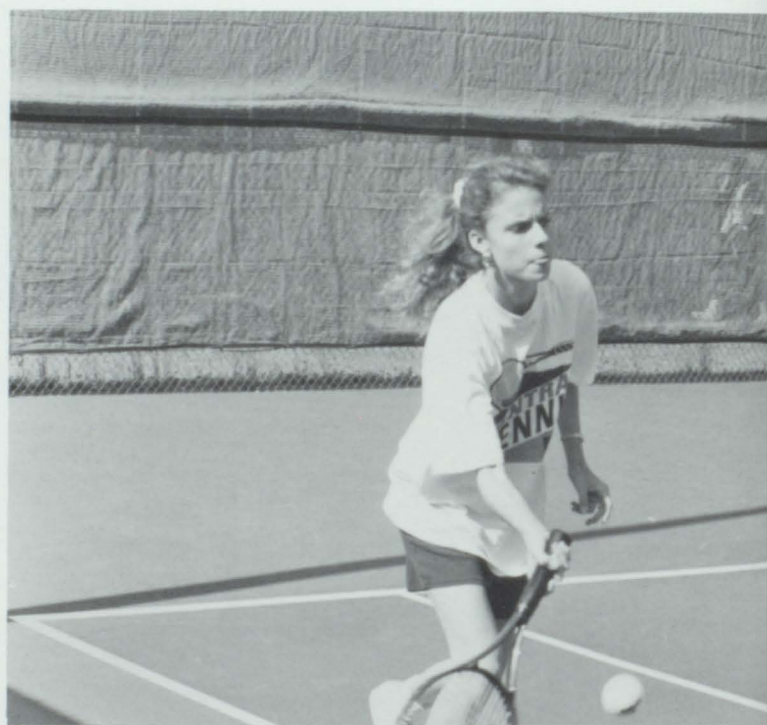

When Nancy Feibelman, a three year varsity tennis player, was asked what her year was like, she said, "We didn't always win, but that is a part of tennis. We had a lot of fun though."

Ending the season with a 5 and 3 record, a selected few from the team were asked to take some time from their Spring Break and attend Regional Competition in Augusta, GA. Eleanor Mixon recalls her match by saying, "I arrived on the court at 10 and was off the court by 10:10. I had lost the match: 8 - 0."

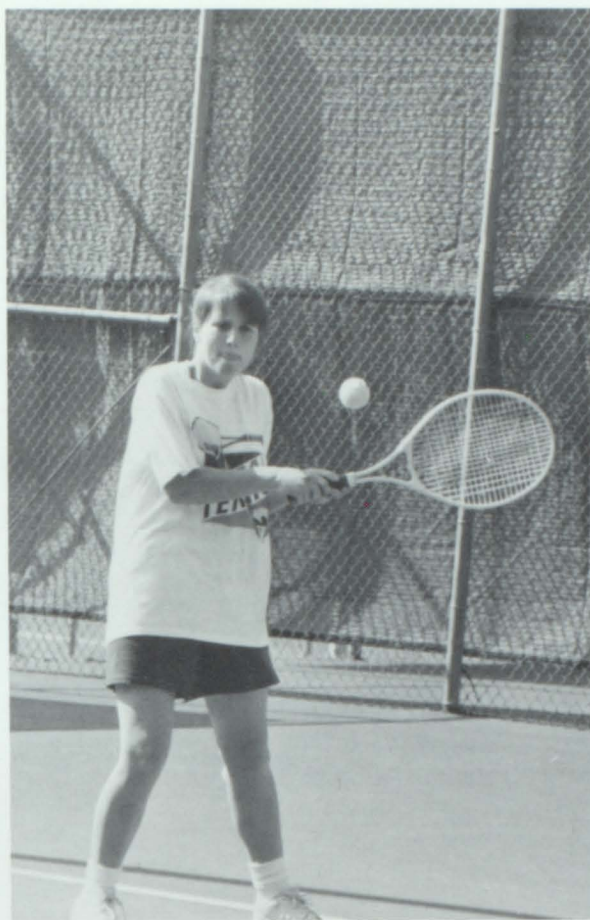

With the 1993 tennis year finally here and having lost only one senior from last year, Lori Spell, the girls are eager to begin their new season. Coach Tom Simonton, the girl's tennis coach for the past 12 years, anticipates another winning season. He said, "We have a lot of seniors on the team as well as underclassmen. I know this tennis season will be great."

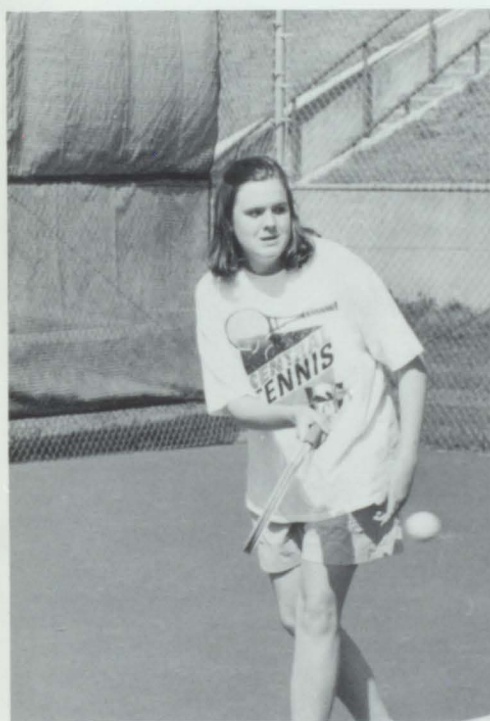

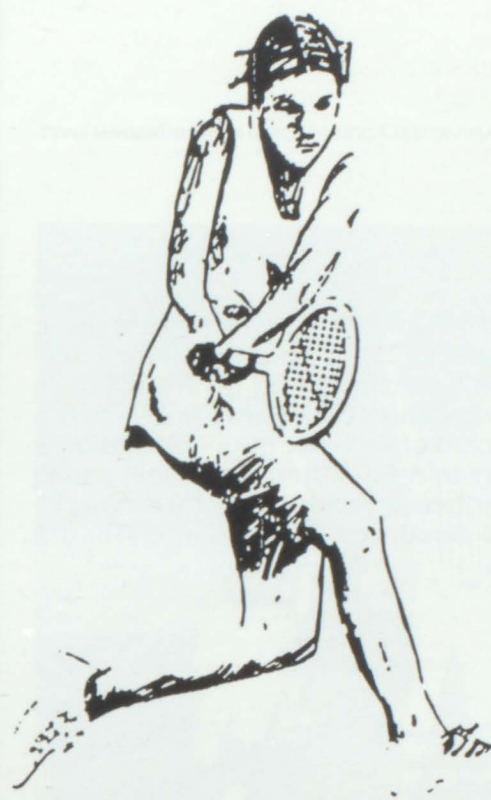

Allison Hooks waits for the ball to come in her line of view for a smash.

The mighty Chargers were at it again in 1992. Another winning season was chalked up for Head Coach Tom Simonton and his team. With a record of 7 - 3, the guys charged their way to a City Championship, beating Northeast, Southeast and constant rival Southwest. The Chargers had a season for all to be proud of. All - City Team included: Ian Altman, Mike Davis, Fred Gore, Ken Lawson, Jason Marti, Richard McKinney, Chris Smith, Bobby Wooten, and James Grier who made All - State as well. Congratulations on a wonderful season.

Reach for the Goal!

If you want to play competitive sports you are going to have to have a coach whether it be a defensive or offensive, or just someone who cares enough about you to help you become a better player. What many people may not realize is how much time and effort goes into making a successful coach. The men and women that make up America's coaches give up countless days and nights striving to make a successful team.

But coaching also comes with rewards — as was discovered when the following coaches were asked, "What is your favorite thing about coaching?"

— Coach Holleman — "Working with young kids; being a positive influence in the lives of players. The relationships you form with other coaches and players last a lifetime."

— Coach Little — "Coaching allows me the opportunity to learn more about a student. You have to realize that coaches spend more time working with a student than the classroom teacher. We meet parents, and visit the home more. Knowing that in some way you've played a part of this child's life is worth every minute, it sometimes bring sadness when they leave but that's part of the job!"

— Coach Simonton — "Being with the players during the season — seeing them improve and strive to win — being connected with the game of football."

My deepest appreciation goes to all the coaches who have given their time and patience in my 2 years as sports editor.

CHS Soccer Team

The 1992 soccer team went an impressive 7 - 2. Finishing 3rd in the region last year, the team has captured the city championship 4 out of the last 5 years. As with every team they have strengths and weaknesses. Coach Ruff cites the team's strengths as the 5 returning seniors and a strong offense, but says the defense could hurt them. Coach Ruff of the upcoming season, "We have a strong team offensively and I look for us to have a real good year. We should be able to repeat as city champions and finish high in the region."

Over Christmas break, the team competed in the Bank South Classic Tournament in Jones Co. The team represented Central by taking a dynamic second place. Two of the teams outstanding players have been named to the Top Ten Scorer list in Middle GA; they are Allison Hooks, averaging 17.2 points per game and Syreeta Ford, averaging 18.7 points per game. Congratulations to both of these girls. Syreeta Ford sums up what it's like to be a Charger, "I enjoy being part of this team because it's just like a second family. We work and play well together which is the key to our success."

HAIR Today — Gone Tomorrow!

Central students travel to Dudley Hughes for Cosmetology Classes.

Cosmetology is one of the classes in Central's Vocational Training Program. It is a two hour class at Dudley Hughes Building downtown. Students ride a Bibb County yellow bus to and from the class. Central is the only school that has the privilege of leaving campus for class, with the exception of Northeast, whose second year students drive to Dudley Hughes.

This year, Cosmetology has a new teacher, Teresa Brown. She was a beauty salon owner in Alabama before she moved to Georgia. One of her dreams was to be a cosmetology teacher.

This class teaches more than how to fix hair — how to be a better student. Students spend two days in their classrooms doing work in the book, and three days in the lab getting hands-on experience. On Fridays students get to fix each other's hair!

Central tries very hard to prepare its students for the real world after high school. Cosmetology is just one of the many varied options.

"I have taken Cosmetology for two years and I have enjoyed it. Not only is it fun but you also learn different things. You have fun but also learn."

A Step Ahead

Central offers advanced classes for motivated achievers.

Central boasts several new programs for academically advanced students. They are Advanced Placement English 11, International Baccalaureate Program, and Gifted English.

AP 11 is a college-level American literature class which focuses on interpreting complete works of literature and writing literary analyses. The pre-requisites are: A or B in Honors English courses, BST reading score of 90th percentile, a 10th grade teacher's recommendation and parental permission.

Students read 10 novels, 4 plays, essays, short stories, and poems. They participate in class and small-group discussions as well as write personal responses to works. Journal writing, research paper, and vocabulary study are also included.

IB is a program for highly motivated students with an emphasis on world literature. The program originated through international schools set up for students of foreign countries. It was so successful that schools throughout the world recognized a highly academic pre-university program. Any student who is highly motivated with successful reading and writing skills is eligible.

This program begins in 9th grade. The class participates in writing extended essays and thinks about the relationship of all disciplines. This class must also participate in community activities and service. A typical class period promotes critical thinking skills and creative ability.

Javier Villaverde is a student from Spain. When asked if Central is different from his school in Spain, he responded, "There are many differences. I am an exchange student and I have attended school in Spain for the past 11 years. The daily schedule is different as well as the subjects offered and the grades assigned by teachers. These differences are based on the educational plans and goals of the different governments."

Javier finds school rather easy. "In Spain, the teachers are more demanding and the classes are more advanced. It's harder for me here, because my English is not so good, and all of my classes are in English."

Javier likes school at Central, and he thinks that the majority of the teachers are very friendly. "People here are very nice." He feels that he would recommend for his friends to come to America, because it is a very good experience. "You can make a lot of friends, and you get to know a different culture .

You may have seen him in the hall, or you might even have a class with him. His name is Jan Schoppenhorst, and he is one of the two foreign exchange students attending Central this year. He is from Germany. He plans to graduate from Central, but won't receive a diploma in the United States.

Jan says that he likes school in America compared to Germany; "It is easier," but he has more homework! Also, his lunch period is longer.

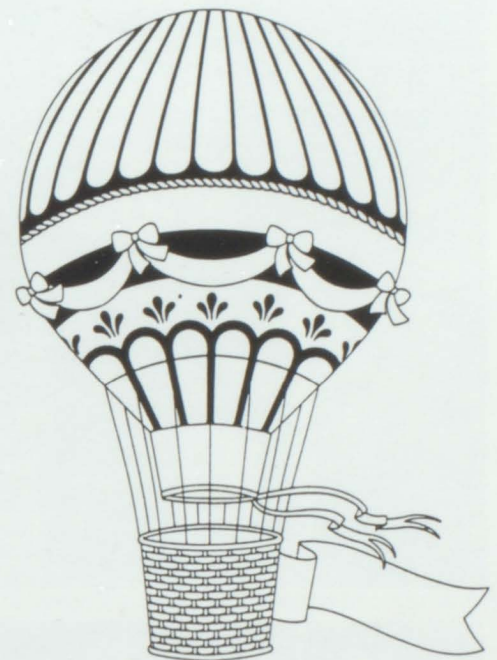

He says that he would recommend America to all his German friends to see and learn. A statement that he uses quite a great deal is "Coma, coma", or "What'd you say?"

"Good morning, sweet people!" is a quote that Javier will remember from Central. Taken from Mrs. Toliver.

A Creative Exit

Central Students Shine in Special Projects

This year, many interesting projects have taken place at Central by students. Three teachers, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hinesley, and Mrs. Middleton, were asked to explain some of the projects that were assigned in their classes.

Mrs. Brown, a Social Studies teacher, assigned projects to her Mankind CEG classes, and her honors American History classes. In Mankind classes, the project was called "Create A Nation." Students had to create a utopian society to eliminate all crime, pain, and desperation. This project involved much work, including a study of the present Constitution, law cases, controversial issues, and research to justify their nation state. The students enjoyed the project because they could imagine that they were in charge of solving the world's problems and finding a solution.

In American History Honors, students had to make a mini-movie which included events from 1860 - 1920. There was a wide variety of topics, such as Inventors and Women.

In Mrs. Hinesley's Mankind Seminar class, students completed projects on music and fine arts in various countries and cultures. Each project counted as a test and was graded on creativity and thoroughness. The students seemed to enjoy doing their projects, and Mrs. Hinesley wanted her students to learn the subject matter as it was presented in different manners, according to each project. A little later in the year while they were studying music, Mrs. Knight visited the class dressed in 16th century clothes. She talked to them about madrigal music, and taught them a stately court dance.

In Mrs. Middleton's 9th grade English class, students took the short story "Split Cherry Tree" by Jesse Stuart and made it into a play. The students wrote the script themselves. They also appointed prop and scenery committees, as well as student directors, and of course, the actors themselves. The play was performed for the kindergarten class at Winship School, and the students in the class who were not involved in the play critiqued the play as it was performed.

In her Foreign Relations classes, projects were assigned concerning the Islam religion including the politics of Middle East. The students made video tapes, talk shows, and game shows to portray different topics, which included different readings and Jewish/Muslim relations. Mrs. Middleton wanted her students to learn from the projects how to become "lifetime learners" and people who would take responsibility for their own education. She believes that projects are the best teaching method because they allow students to take responsibility to manage themselves and to learn to work together and with others.

"I believe that projects enhance instruction and lead students to employ needed critical thinking skills. In essence, they 'learn by doing' ". — Mrs. Brown and not enjoy it.

ISS (In School Suspension) is a relatively new program at Central. Mr. James Brown is the director. The purpose of the program is to be a constructive approach used for disciplinary action. This is used to help the student learn more about his/her behavior when it becomes destructive to the educational program. There are four categories of offenses which cause students to be sent to ISS: aggressive behavior, disruptive behavior, criminal behavior, or rebellious behavior.

When a student is sent to ISS, there are five basic rules to be followed: be on time, be prepared, respect others and self, stay on task, and demonstrate self-control. Students also have to fill out a questionnaire and a student outlet form.

While in ISS, the student's days follow the same routine. When he/she enters, the student is not allowed to talk, eat, or chew gum. He/she is required to keep up with all classroom assignments. No student is allowed to leave the ISS room without supervision. Lunch is served in the trailer, and all school privileges are taken away from the student. The student must speak and act in a respectful way to the teacher and whisper when help is needed.

Mr. Brown hopes that the students that are sent to the ISS trailer will learn from their mistakes. He also hopes that they will change their attitudes and stay out of trouble.

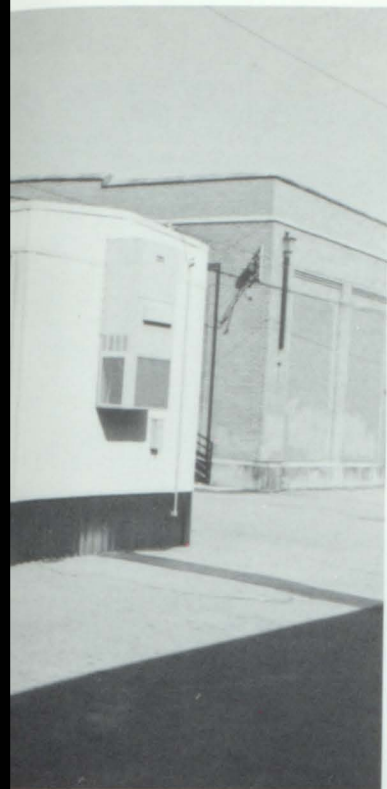

It seems that the In School Suspension program is a successful one. Perhaps students will think twice before committing an offense. The trailer waits!

Mr. Brown says, "I hope students adjust their inappropriate behavior patterns and attitudes, and accept responsibility for their behavior."

The trailer waits!

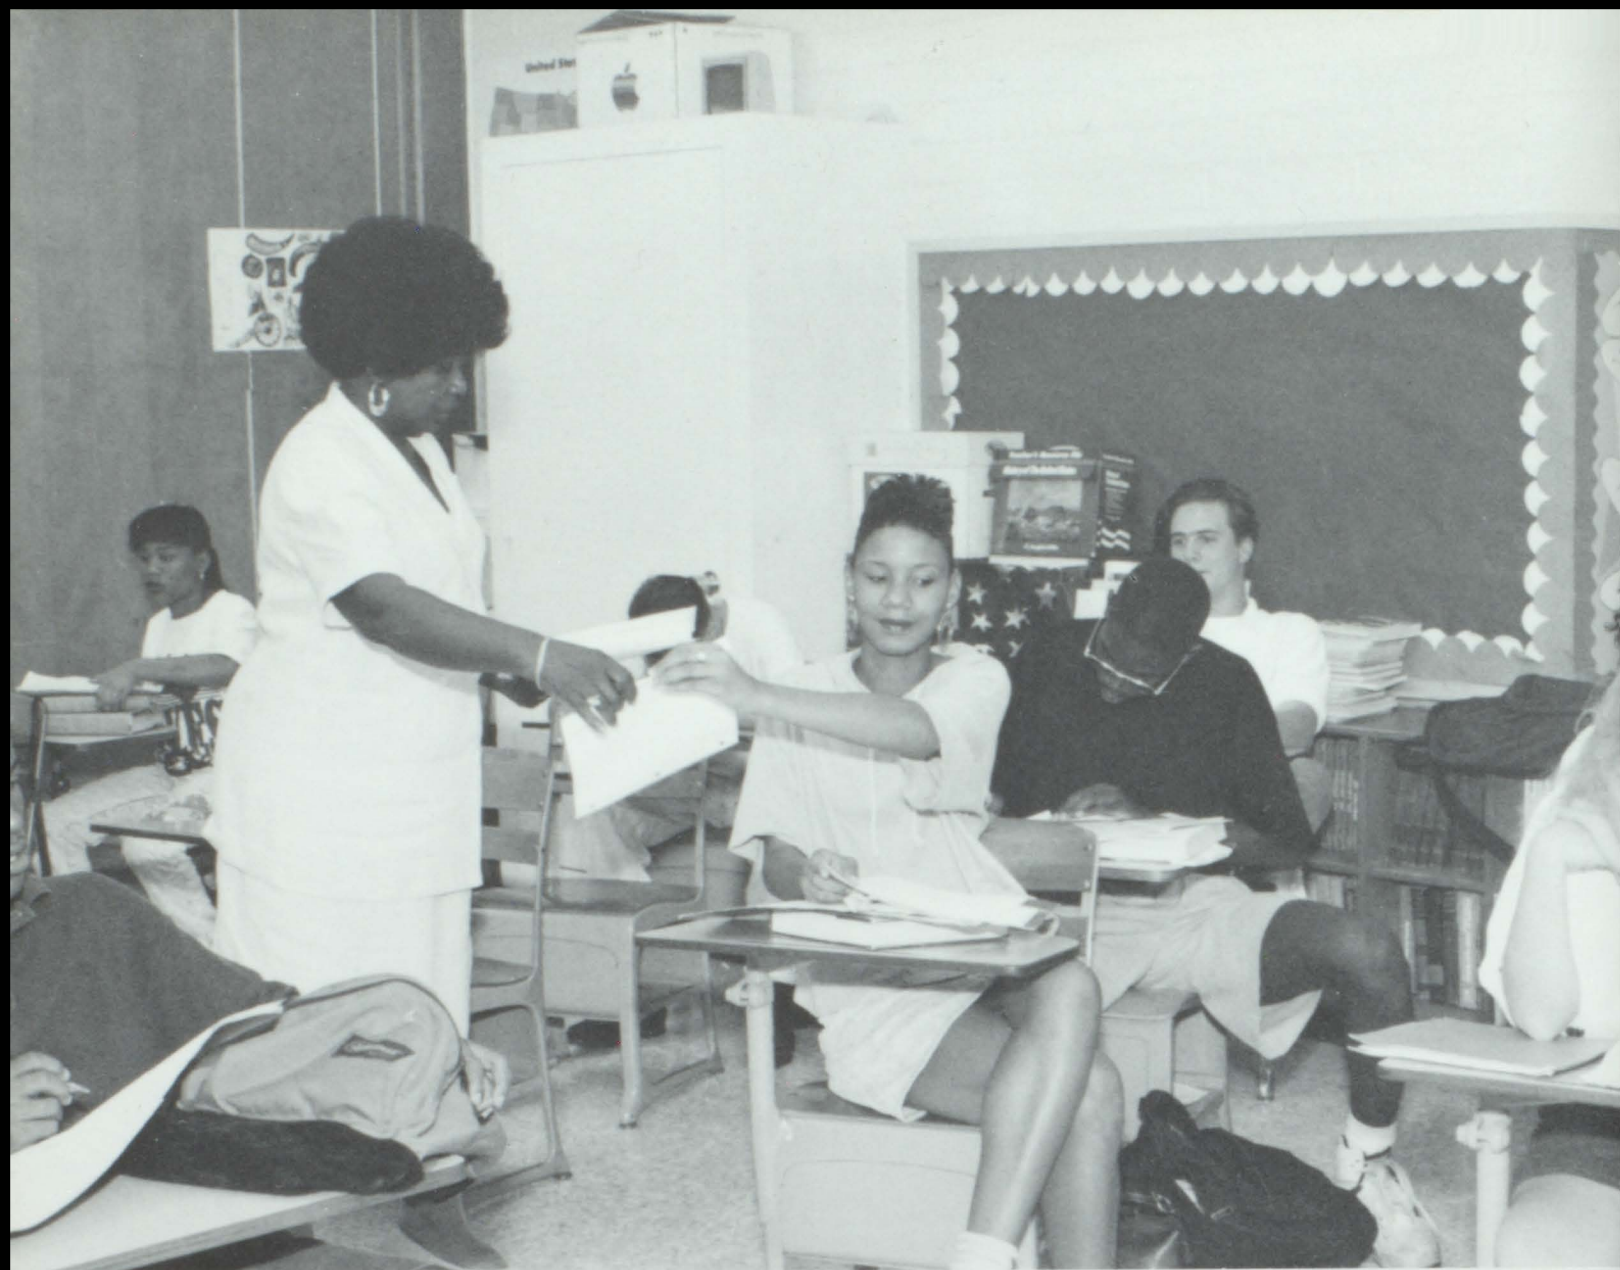

A lonely lunchtime in ISS.

Finals — do we have to take them?

Shanessa Poole

The Final Analysis

CHS students and teachers
debate popular test

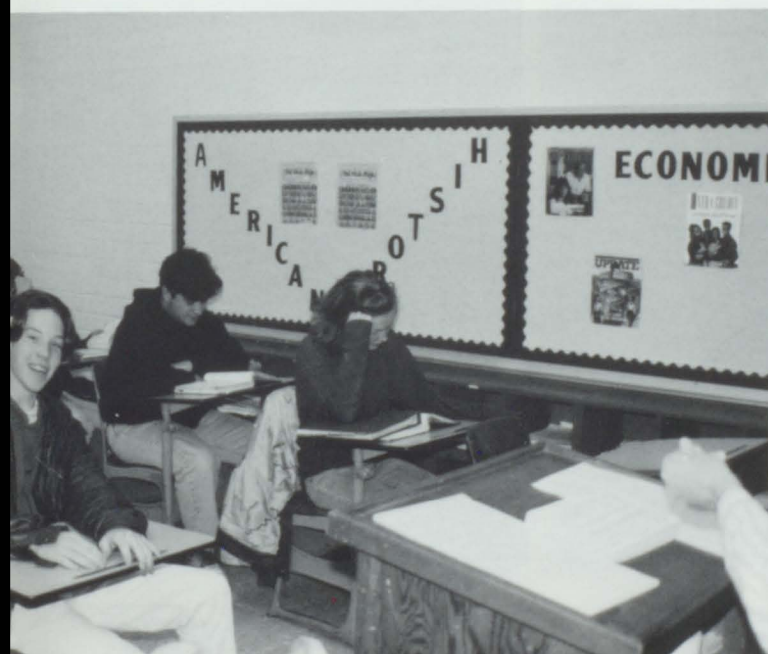

For most students, final exams are a nightmare. While teachers spend many hours planning their tests, students stressfully study for them. There are a few issues that some students don't agree on, however.

For example, some students think they should be able to vote on the exam schedule. In the past the teachers have done the voting, which was for two days. Some students think three days would be better because then they would not have as much to study for in one night. Also, some students think they should be able to sign out early after they finish their finals. Many teachers agree that they should stay the whole day.

Also, some students think they should be able to exempt their finals if they have an A average. Some teachers think all students should take their finals, even seniors, no matter what their average is. Other teachers think students do better during the year if they know they can exempt.

Most students think that final exams are unnecessary and they should not have to take finals because they don't want to go back after a section, but keep going. Teachers on the other hand, think you should have finals because it tests not only your mind and what it remembers, it also tests your knowledge and everything you have learned in all your classes. Maybe if you know you will have to know it again you won't just memorize but learn it.

Shanessa Poole — "I think finals are unnecessary. School is already hectic — why put more strain on students? Finals don't exactly add a bundle of points. They take off more than they add."

As you can probably tell by now the yearbook theme is "Life Is A Highway." We travelled many highways to collect ads in order to make this one of our best yearbooks ever!

“I bought an ad because HCA thinks we ought to support the youth in their endeavors and the Seniors of Central High School.”
Mark Brewer”

If This Award Were A Diploma,

You'd Have A Better Idea How Tough It Is To Earn.

"The Joint Commission is pleased to award accreditation with commendation to your organization as a result of your most recent survey. This unusual level of achievement reflects the successful efforts of your organization to provide high quality care for those you serve...Congratulations on your important achievement of accreditation with commendation." Kenneth G. Hermann, MHA, Pharm. D., FACHE, Vice President for Accreditation, Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

We thought you'd like to share a rare review. Each year over 5400 hospitals across the nation, like us, undergo a rigorous health care evaluation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. Of these, only 7% receive "Accreditation With Commendation," a new category which recognizes hospitals exhibiting exemplary performance in meeting nationally recognized health care standards. This year we're proud to say we were one of the privileged few. In fact, we are the only hospital in Middle and South Georgia to achieve this distinction, placing us far above and beyond the average accredited hospital. But what does it mean to you? We think you'll agree it shows we take your health as seriously as you do. We think you'll also agree it demonstrates our ongoing commitment to provide you with the most responsible and responsive health care available. Finally, it means all of us here at HCA Coliseum Medical Centers are working harder, every day, to be certain you never get less than our best. Because after all, we know you have a choice.

I'm so glad you came I'm so glad you remembered the walking through walls in the heart of december... It's the perfect day for dreams come true for thinking big and doing anything you want to do lets get happy... How much more can we drink it dry take this drug looking for something forever gone but something we will allway want... We'll be here forever and we'll never say goodbye... And everytime I try to pick it up like falling sand as fast as i pick it up it runs away through my clutching hands... the spider man is allways hungry... Oh I miss the kiss of treachery the shameless kiss of vanity... but I never said I would stay untill the end... I am none of these things... But I never know if its real Never know how I wanted to feel Never quite said what I wanted to say... both of us know how the ending would be...

Lyrics from songs by the Cure.

Reality

The Life we live can spring up just as flowers
Do anchored dependently over supporting stems.
Its depth and width cannot be measured by hours.
It commences as little trees
conceiving limbs.
From there it forms one leaf after another,
Then each leads to things more complex and longer.
But let's not forget that Life like us
has a brother.
Death's his name, for his grip is a might stronger.
Once captured, Life is unable to run and hide.
For at once it begins to wither
helplessly away.
As Death is gathering Life's friends
for a ride.
It sometimes wishes it were here to stay!
So soon, take Life by the hand.
Whether you are woman, child or man.

I held a jewel in my fingers —
And went to sleep —
The day was warm, and winds were prosy —
I said "Twill keep" —

I woke and chid my honest
fingers,
The gem was gone —
And now, an Amethyst remembrance
Is all I own —
— Emily Dickinson

The Star Remains In Our Hearts Forever And A Day
The universe is made up of many stars, some bright, and some dim.
Most often, the bright stars burn out the fastest, for they shine brighter and give off more warmth.
Josh's time was short, but so many people were touched by his rays of light whether it be a simple greeting, or the sharing of a joke. No matter which it was, you soon
found yourself smiling and laughing along with him, seeming all of a sudden to be dressed in his happy mood.
Josh may not be here in body, but his smile is repeated
in his Dads smile.
His memory and laughter shall live in the hearts of those
he shone upon FOREVER!! — Jason
Hibberd & Damon Vaughn

MEMORIAM

We have finally made it to the end of the year. We have all survived the trials of Central — crowded halls, broken locks, lock-outs, detention, and crossing in the rain; just to mention a few. As we look back we have many fond memories of this year that we will carry with us down the road of life.

“Life is a highway that goes on and on; but once in a while, you’re gonna have to exit.” Darryl Gibbs

“I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.”

Robert Frost

Mrs. Ishmael advises Chelsea Tarrrell and Ayanna Houston in the Lanier A guidance office.

Corinthean Keen, Danielle Griffin, Tai Miyamoto, and Lindsey Hodges share a couple of laughs while waiting on the traffic in the senior parking lot.

Closing

THE END OF THE ROAD . . .

This twenty-third volume of the Pegasus was printed by Josten's Printing and Publishing in Clarksville, Tennessee. David and Paulette Zeigler were the company representatives. Jay Moorehead was the in-plant consultant.

Photographs were taken by staff photographers as well as Southeastern Portraits, Incorporated.

Process colors were Rich Red 199 and Forest Green 349.

The book size is 8 1/2 by 11 with 244 pages and a press run of 740 copies. There are 31 process colored pages with press proofs of every page.

The cover is a school-designed craft-lined embossed cover, 150 board weight.

The cover was conceived at Summer Yearbook Workshop at Auburn University by the yearbook staff. The name is stamped in Silver Foil and the material is leathertone Forest Green with applied colors Silver Foil and Deep Red.

End sheets are on Gold Dust printed with black ink. Artwork on front end sheets was drawn by Lanette Sosby.

The basic body style of copy is Benguiat with headlines and subheadlines in University. Additional type styles were used in the book.
